Taralye

Taralye is an internationally recognised early intervention centre that has provided inclusive oral language programs for children with hearing loss and their families in Victoria for almost fifty years.

About Taralye

The role of the parent and family is regarded as pivotal in every aspect of our work and we are highly committed to supporting and fostering the wellbeing of families of young children with hearing loss.

The ACCIH, now operating as Taralye, was established in 1968 by a group of parents who sought to obtain oral speech and language outcomes for their young hearing impaired children. At the time, their ground-breaking work prompted other families with hearing impaired children to seek help in teaching their children to listen and speak.

We use evidence to implement and measure quality standards in our practices. We support families with sensitivity and empathy as they work through the emotional impact of the diagnosis of hearing loss.

Playgroup

A safe place for children to meet, play and grow!

Open to children who are deaf or hard of hearing, the whole family is welcome to attend.

Playgroup supports parents providing information and an opportunity to interact with other parents of deaf children.

Parents have the opportunity to meet each other, share advice, friendship and support over a cup of tea or coffee.

Also regular access to an audiologist from Australian Hearing to take impressions for moulds and answer any questions you may have in relation to your child's hearing*.
